Overview

We work with clients who operate in high-risk, complex management. They look to Enint to provide them with an infrastructure of safety that protects their license to operate and ensures they remain compliant across the full spectrum of Management regulations.

We help global companies to automate the management of their corporate risk profile with a comprehensive array of software modules that includes; Auditing, Risk Management.

Our leading-edge platform, delivered within a Software as a Service (SaaS) model, offers clients in the Oil and Gas, Extractive and Heavy Industrial sectors a total solution for their Health, Safety and Environmental infrastructure. A solution that helps them to safeguard against, be better prepared for, and recover from incidents faster than they've ever done before.

We enable them to effectively respond to events that disrupt or put stress on their operations. Wherever it happens within their business; technical failures, human error, natural disasters or simply prolonged weather can threaten our clients operations at a moments notice - and when it does, the Enint infrastructure helps them to rapidly make safe their people, their installations and maintain business continuity to the greatest possible extent.

And it's not just the bigger incidents we help them to manage. Our platform provides real-time visibility and trend analysis that enables a proactive approach to incident management, safety and compliance and the sharing of best practice.

On the management front, we help companies turn their sustainability efforts into the real competitive advantage. With our management, emissions and carbon reporting modules, we help them to automate large parts of their disclosure process and very quickly determine their GRI (or any other) environmental profile enterprise-wide and make an immediate contribution to their environmental stewardship across key elements of their operations.
